SUPPLEMENT.

Printers' Errors.

As a class, the manipulators of type may truthfully be called the best (and worst) abused men in the world, and without sufficient reason. Very few outside of the trade know the difficulties under which they labor or have even a faint conception of the skill, care and patience required. Absolute correctness is a prime essential to secure public approbation, and how very little is done in the way of assistance. "Copy" properly prepared is a great desideratum and rarely received. That which is called "good" is often the very reverse. It may be fair to the eye and yet blind to the sense. The patron does not know exactly what he needs. If he has any ideas upon the subject they may be perverted ones, and the little smattering he has of the art tends to lead him astray and demand impossibilities. His judgment has not been trained in the matter of letters. He knows nothing of "justification" except that he believes he has it in the largest sense to give the printer "particular fits" when an error is found. Why six-line pica and nonpareil can not be made to chime like notes of music is beyond his ideas of eternal fitness of inanimate matter. According to his views it is the most simple of undertakings to set, make up and work off one hundred pages, more or less, in the most unreasonably short space of time.

Before pouring out the vials of their wrath upon the head of the printer, it might be well for men to pause and consider how much he is to blame. Somewhere in our desultory reading we have met with the statement that any old piece of Mosaic work containing a few hundred pieces is exalted to the skies and pronounced wonderful. It required patience, no doubt, probably taste and study, but (carrying out the drift of the article read) how very little in comparison to the tens and hundreds of thousands of still more slender and minute particles the printer is required to handle to make up a paper or book. Take a solid page of the Cabinet as an example. It contains some 27,000 "ems," or about 81,000 letters. This is greatly more than any Mosaic known. And they had to be placed without any chiseling or sand-papering, as could be done in the delicate work of table, chair or picture.

Taking this as a basis, calculation is easy as to the amount of type a compositor handles during his hours of daily labor in distribution and setting. Easy it is also to conceive how much little fragments of metal will slip out of place, how a letter or space may be dropped, a word spelled incorrectly, a point be wrong, how errors will creep in despite of all care—and the generous public be outraged at the "gross carelessness and stupidity of the printer!"

Errors do occur, we must admit, but they are fabulously uncommon when compared to chances of their being made, and books and papers are monuments to the correctness of the craft, their swiftness and certainty of touch, education and never ceasing vigilance.

We write not thus for the craft. They practically know the truth of our words. But we do write for multitude of outsiders, and with the hope that the simple illustration we have given may open their eyes to the great injustice done to those who, "with their nose in the space box," toil away their lives for the benefit of the world at large.—[Rounds' Printers' Cabinet.

Mr. Clarence Wood planted a few bushels of artichokes last season and realized returns at the rate of 500 bushels per acre. Mr. Wood says there is nothing preferred to them by hogs, nor anything so remarkably fattening in their tendencies. He will sow a large area in artichokes for the express purpose of fattening his swine there on.—[Glasgow Times.

—Not a single Kentuckian ought to attend the Dramatic Festival unless Cincinnati in some emphatic and satisfactory manner recalls the lie put out by her newspapers, that it was a Kentucky mob which did the mischief. We shall continue to advise and advocate this policy until full reparation is made.—[Yeoman.

The people of Warren county have voted an appropriation from the county treasury of $1,000 per mile for turnpike roads built in future. This has led to the organization of four new turnpike companies, and it is expected that twenty miles of new roads will be completed this summer.

The Devoted Mother.

Many a poor mother in an humble cot, with no money or position, has struggled hard to feed and clothe her little ones, to train them to be an honor to their country and a blessing to the world. Most of our useful, prominent men came from such homes. Our churchyards are full of such sleeping mothers, whose hands are folded over their breasts. No worldly eye ever saw the records of their lives; only God and the angels. No tall monuments and high-sounding epitaphs mark their resting-places. What a responsibility rests upon the mothers of this country! Life is too short to be spent in accumulating the things of this world that must perish. The children do not stay with us long enough to permit us to waste our hours in the pursuit of fashion and gaiety. What we sow now we shall reap hereafter. God give to all mothers grace and strength to fulfill their duties aright, that their influence for good may be felt from generation to generation.

"I don't take any interest in politics of late years, and have no opinions to express," says R. B. Hayes. The public is not likely to weep over this suppression of information. Indeed, the fewer the opinions of Mr. Hayes the more information there seems to be.—[New York Graphic.

From appearances the religious beliefs of possible candidates for the Presidency are to count for considerable. This is a dangerous contingency. May we never see the day when our politics will divide on a religious question, but the possibility grows.—[Progress.

"Mr. Jones," said little Johnny to that gentleman, who was making an afternoon call, "can whisky talk?" "No, my child, how can you ever ask such a question?" "Oh, nothing! only ma said whisky was beginning to tell on von."

HALL'S Journal of Health says the worst cold may be cured if the patient will, soon after taking it, keep warm in bed and eat nothing for a day or two. Dr. Felix Oswald prescribes fasting for rheumatism.

A Louisville firm sells "nursing corsets." Talk of locomotives and cyclones, that cap the climax of invention; disposing of hired girls and acting in its proper sphere at the same individual moment.

W. P. WALTON.

BLAINE has a clear majority of Ohio district delegations and of the entire State delegation, even if he should lose the delegates for the State at large. Arthur was not known and Sherman only far enough to emphasize his weakness.

R. S. WILLIAMS, the Covington correspondent of the News Journal, stabbed a fellow named Reed, who attacked him for a publication that appeared in that paper.

—The national prohibition convention will be held at Pittsburg May 21.

—The New Orleans Cotton Exposition will receive an appropriation of $1 000 000 from the government as a loan.

—It is estimated that during the present century 150,000,000 copies of the Bible have been printed in 226 different languages.

—The House has passed the Senate's bill requiring County Attorneys to assist the commonwealth in all prosecutions in the Circuit Court, for which they are to receive 15 per cent of all the fines and forfeitures.

DANVILLE, BOYLE COUNTY.

—Mr. John E. Lamb and Miss Ada Low Ferrill and Mr. C. H. Atkins and Miss Nannie Russel obtained license to marry on the 21st inst.

—A fine black two-year-old filly, by Barney Wilkes, arrived by rail on Wednesday night from South West Georgia. She is the property of Mr. Sam Salter and will be trained by Hutchins & Poge.

—Messrs. Theodore Linrey and Hartwell Perry are fitting up the store room on Third street, lately occupied by the Tribune, and will in a few days open out a fine stock of groceries and confectionaries.

—Misses Ida and Blanche Twidwell, of Hustonville, have been visiting relatives in this vicinity for several days past. Mr. and Mrs. Thos. M. Green, of Maysville, were registered at Gilcher's on Wednesday. Hon. Jas. R. Burnham, Representative from Madison county, was at the same hotel on Thursday. Capt. W. C. Crozier, the genial landlord of the hotel at Burnside, was at the Clemens House on Wednesday. Col. Joe. Weisegar, of Lancaster, was at the same hotel the same day. Rev. E. B. Hill, of the Broadway M. E. Church, and his bride, nee Miss Zena Parker, of Somerset, are spending a few days at Sardis, in Eastern Kentucky.

—R. G. Evans, on the 28th inst., completed the delivery of 114,000 pounds of hemp to the house of C. C. Jacobs, of Cincinnati. The price received was $5.50 per hundred.

—On Thursday six prosecutions against H. W. Evans were called in the police court. Four were dismissed on motion of the town attorney and two were tried by J. B. McFerran, special judge, with a judgment for the defendant. Still another case against Mr. Evans was continued until Saturday, with an order of arrest for James W. Guthrie, an absent witness. These are some of the cases several times referred to, which have been pending since last November, in which a detective named Webb, from Cincinnati, was employed to "catch" the druggists selling liquor. In the same august tribunal, four cases adorned the docket, in which Geo. G. Beddow was defendant, with the same witness for the prosecution. No 1 was tried before this report closed, with a judgment of acquittal.

—A well-apparelled young man of good address, named H. L. Browning, came to Gilcher's on the 2d inst, and registered as from New York. He circulated among horse dealers as the agent of a new fashioned horse brush and probably took orders for the same. Messrs. Gilcher say that he left their house on the night of the 8th without paying a bill of $10.50. Wakefield, Farris & Co., livery stable men, report that he insinuated himself into their affections to the tune of $7.50 for buggy hire, promising to send horse brushes, which never arrived, in liquidation of his bill. Other rumors of a like character are afloat concerning the same individual, among them one connecting him with an unpaid hotel bill of $70 due the Capitol Hotel at Frankfort. H. L. was "a mighty sweet man" and claims to have been a student, if not a graduate of Yale.

MT. VERNON DEPARTMENT.

Managed by Jno. B. Fish.

—Mr. F. L. Thompson now occupies his new residence on Main street.

—Rain has been falling almost without ceasing since Monday morning.

—A new postoffice has been established at Mt. Guthrie called Maretburg, in honor of our Jim. Mr. B. F. Sutton is the postmaster.

—Mrs. C. Mullins, of Livingston, was in town this week. John W. Reid, a popular notion drummer, from Louisville, was here yesterday. Gaines Adams and T. T. Wallace went to Point Burnside, Wednesday, to engage in the lumber business. John M. Williams and John H. Williams went to London on a visit this week. S. W. Parris has returned from Cincinnati.

—We have seen no call for a democratic meeting in this county yet, suppose there will be none, as Mr. J. S. Johnson has failed, or refused, to recognize the members of the committee elected last year.

—Bill posters for S. H. Barrett & Co's show have again made their appearance in our midst. More advertising is being done by this show than by any that has ever been here. Two wagons started out from this place this morning with bills to be distributed throughout the county.

—The last rail on the K. C. extension has been put down. About one hundred convicts are at work ballasting the track. It is reported that a passenger train will be put on this road between the 1st and 15th of May. Mr. George Sambrooks has been leveling off the ground at Livingston for side tracks and round houses. A new set of larger ties will be laid down from the sinks of Roundstone to Livingston and two tracks will be laid on these ties, as the gauge of the two roads is different.

—Lambert Thompson, who stole a lot of clothing from Hart & Co., about three months ago was brought to this place by Mr. Sanders, coroner of Taylor county, and placed in jail. It will be remembered that after Lambert had stolen the goods and was about to be caught, he placed them in a coffee sack and made his son Joe carry them off. Joe was arrested with the goods in his possession, had an examining trial and was held over on the charge of receiving stolen property. Both father and son are now in jail and will no doubt be sent to the penitentiary as the proof is very strong against them. Joe Thompson says he is willing and wants to go to Frankfort for one or two years and that his father ought never to have been turned loose when he was there a year ago.

PERSONAL.

—MR. DAVID KLASS is in the city buying goods.

—MRS. GRESHAM, of Livingston, has been visiting here this week.

—MR. J. W. GUTHRIE, a sewing machine rejuvenator, is here to do business in that line.

—DR. I. S. BURDETT, of Brodhead, was here yesterday, for the first time for months.

—MISS PANTHEA MCKINNEY will go to Crab Orchard this evening to visit Miss Annie Buchanan.

—MR. GILBERT GARRARD, of Manchester, was here yesterday to see his sister Miss Emma, who is sick.

—DR. HAWKINS BROWN was the only representative here from Hustonville, last night, but he had fun enough for a dozen.

LOCAL MATTERS.

New parasols, fans, lace and neck wear at Robt S. Lytle's.

MISS LUELLA RAMSEY has received her flowers. Call and get first choice.

WHITLEY COURT.—J. W. Alcorn, Esq., returned from Williamsburg yesterday. He tells us that four men have been sent to the Penitentiary this week, among them Rainwater, who laid in jail here so long. Murder was the charge and he gets off with the light sentence of four years.

THE New Orleans Minstrels give one of the cleanest, most artistic and humorous performances of any troupe in their line. Each member of the Company not only looks but acts the gentleman and each tries to make the exhibition the real success that they are. The audience last night, although fair, was not as large as so meritorious a performance deserved and we can account for it only on the proposition that the performance was too devoid of smutty things to suit the average lover of minstrels.

There were a number of excellent features. The singing was good and the music furnished by the gold band could not be beaten. In their numerous specialties the Gormans are immense and the funny doings and sayings caused many a side to ache. Frankum, Stiles, Beck and Dillion also deserve praise for largely contributing to the evening's entertainment. The manager, Mr. Joseph Gorton, is a liberal and accomplished gentleman and deserves continued success.

CHARLES ANDERSON, a brakeman on the Knoxville Branch, was crushed to death between two draw-heads at Bardstown Junction Wednesday.

A NEGRO woman was shot at through the window of her house at Williamsburg, Wednesday night and killed, whether by her husband or paramour was not known at last account.

THE Stanford, Lancaster and Danville Telephone line is not half the time in a talking condition and often proves a delusion and a snare. Why does not President Burdett see that it is kept up properly?

HENRY BRIGHT received an invoice of oleomargarine and sent a sample of it to several of his lady customers, leaving the impression that it was creamery butter. Several were delighted with it and said it was the best they had seen this winter.

MR. A. J. SIGLER, leading merchant of Crab Orchard, we are sorry to learn, has failed. His assets are some $40,000 in accounts, many of them worthless and a stock of about $8,000. His liabilities are stated at $20,000. Too much and too reckless crediting did the business.

FOUR years ago the position of district delegate to the national convention was sought after and almost fought over. This time no one seems to want the position, but it seems to be generally understood that it will be given to Col. W. G. Welch, who will make a capital one.

REPRESENTATIVE BERKELE is on his ear because the Garrard county republicans ignored him in appointing delegates to the State Convention, because he voted for Senator Blackburn on the final ballot. He says he will make it red-hot for Bradley, at whose instigation the uncalled-for thrust was made.

NEWS comes from Kansas that Tom Proctor and Sam Robinson, both formerly of this county, had a shooting scrape last week. It seems that Robinson, following his old bent, had taken up with a woman and brought her to Mr. Proctor's house, pretending that she was his wife. As soon as the deception was learned, Proctor ordered them both off for which Robinson threatened to kill him on sight. They met shortly afterwards and some words passed when Robinson grossly insulted Mrs. Proctor. Then her husband drew a pistol and commenced firing at Robinson, who fell back behind a horse, which was unfortunately killed instead of him. Bystanders then disarmed Proctor and it is said that Robinson fired at him afterwards, without effect, however.

--Comptroller Knox has resigned, to take effect May 1.

—Arthur and Edmunds combined against Blaine in the New York convention and shut him out.

—Jesse Gunn and his father, of Monroe, Ga., courted the same girl. They quarrelled and Jesse killed his father.

—Wm. Austin, a crazy Allen county farmer, threw two of his children into the fire and roasted them alive.

—A. M. Galloway delivered to Hill & Barr, eight head of 1,300 pound cattle at 5½ cents and thirty-one 200-pound hogs at the same price.—[Bowling Green Gazette.

—Professor Wiggins claims that the recent storms and earthquakes are a fair fulfillment of his March predictions.

—The Connecticut republican delegates go to Chicago uninstructed, but they will support Hon. Joseph R. Hawley for the Presidency.

—Phil Thompson feels proud over his success in getting his bill to increase the sinking fund of the Pacific R. R. through the Committee.

—J. J. Douglas and R. B. Spencer, managers of the Henry College Lottery, are under arrest at Covington, charged with using the mails for lottery purposes.

—Neal is at last on the rack, the jury in his case having been obtained, and it is hoped he will soon expiate his crime, like his partners in guilt, on the gallows.

—Everheart Hundley's fine mare, Minnie D., by old Denmark, dropped a bay horse colt, Lucius L., sired by Messenger Chief, on Wednesday night. Mr. Hundley has already refused $500 for the colt, which is a very fine one.

—The Virginia coalitionists adopted the following resolution: "Cordially indorsing the administration of President Arthur as conspicuously national and conservative, we give emphatic expression to our preference for his nomination at Chicago."

—Circuit Court is now in session, with 291 cases on the docket, of which 46 are Commonwealth, including three for murder—Joe Redmon for killing Wm. Secrest, Henry Mucker for killing Henry Downing, and Caroline Johnson for infanticide.—[Paris News.

The case being urged was old Farmer Closegrip vs. a railroad company for damages sustained in a collision.

The old man's lawyer was making a pitiful appeal to the jury—"Gentlemen of the jury," he said, "just gaze upon the true, honest, time-beaten face of my client, and suppose he had been fatally wounded think of the sad blow that his loving wife and little innocent children would have to receive; but thank heaven, it was not so bad as that. But oh! how he must have suffered during those long days of his illness—how the heart-stricken companion of his life felt when they brought him home, bruised and mangled. Now tell me, shall this poor old man go down to his grave a maimed and helpless creature without some aid from the cause of his affliction?"

During this delivery Closegrip was noticed to be very much agitated, and rising as the lawyer finished he sobbed—

"Judge, cuse my breakin' in, but I must speak."

"Go on," commanded the court.

"I didn't know it wer so bad as it air till the gentlem'n tha sot dow; an' if ye'll let me, I'll—I'll—," here he faltered.

"Y u'd woa?" asked his honor.

"Just raise them fingers on the railroad for a few dollars more—make it a thousand instid o' five hundred; wont ye, judge?"

It is needless to add that the judge didn't.

"Let's see!" he remarked to a dealer on Chatham street, "havn't you a brother in the clothing business in Cincinnati?"

"Oxactly My Brudder Moses vhas dere."

"And how is he doing?"

"Bad—werry bad. Moses vhas not der man to see opportunities."

"How?"

"Vhe'll, ven dot flood came Moses should haf been in der rudder coat and poot pree-ness, but he vhas left. Den when der riot took place Moses should haf been stocked up mit guns und pistols, but he hadn't so much as a trigger. Moses vhas on his vhay to der poorhouse, he vhas."—[Wall Street News.
